

ARTIST WILLOWHAWK IS SEEKING PATRONS

WillowHawk (Angie Schuyler) is dedicating her energy and “time” completely toward creating orgone art, natural sculpture, wall hangings and jewelry and other spiritual things –

WHICH WILL ALL BE GIFTED TO OTHERS

Recipro City is not just an idea, but a fractal or a small mirror part of the whole Universe, where energy flows as a torus or a “multi-dimensional figure of eight” funnel of energy and light – streaming spiritual and tangible or physical forms in a constant grid of reciprocity – where human beings as one matter form on Earth “give and receive naturally.”

To “give and receive naturally” is un-conditional.

It means to manifest your energy the way you want to, in keeping with respecting and looking after your resources (the Earth and all on Earth) because everything is ultimately dependent upon our planet home; and your needs for food, water, shelter, growth and development, companionship and interesting things to do, will manifest.

What you and others do generates what is needed for sustainable living, which is matter and energy in form, which flows through and around all matter forms and back into all forms.

Recipro City is NOT expecting people to give, it is about attracting those who want to gift energy to WillowHawk in return for the reciprocal flow of energy (love and light / inspiration / joy / satisfaction / encouragement / healing energy and other spiritual and material fractals) where it will go where it needs to flow.

Recipro City is NOT about a person doing what she/he wants, while others feel or think that they cannot do so. It is about the FRACTAL. Angie is living the truth, that she does not have to exchange her work for money, and in fact money is a construct and was not in use at the beginning of time. While Angie WillowHawk is asking for PATRONS to offer money, this money is not in exchange for something directly from Angie, which is what a business does; but is to gift her with a means of being a part of the current human society on Earth.

Patronage is about genuinely supporting someone as best you can. The point is that we all live in a world where at the moment, sadly, money is used by most of us in order to live the way we want to, so that we can try to be who we are.

WillowHawk is the founder of a new system where one day she won't need money as gifts from her patrons, because reciprocity without money will be the way.

"We are ALL, inextricably, part and parcel, of a natural, toroidal, energy system that feeds back into itself.

This is the Energy which is our Creator Source, by whatever name you know your Highest Power.

By the Law of Reciprocity, whatever energy we put into this natural energy flow, absolutely, undeniably and perpetually returns... Unless... We stop up the flow."
